| Defendant. |) | |
| _____ |) | |

This matter is before the court on Defendant’s motion “to change method by which balance of sentence is served.” ECF No. 97 (filed Oct. 5, 2011).

The location where a defendant serves her sentence is purely a matter within the purview of the United States Bureau of Prisons. See United States v. Wilson, 503 U.S. 329, 331 (1992) (“The Attorney General, through the Bureau of Prisons (BOP), has responsibility for imprisoning federal offenders.”). See also C.F.R. § 0.96 (“[t]he Director of the Bureau of Prisons is authorized to exercise or perform any of the authority, functions, or duties conferred or imposed upon the Attorney General by any law relating to the commitment, control, or treatment or persons . . . charged with or convicted of offenses against the United States . . .”).

Defendant’s motion is, therefore, denied.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
